Dear Friends,

On behalf of all of us at Burlington Foundation, I am reaching out to you regarding the fast-moving COVID-19 crisis.

We recognize the strain that the uncertainty and demands of this crisis place on you personally and on our local non-profits, families and businesses. We also know that rapidly changing conditions and information can feel overwhelming, and we are so grateful to be part of a caring and generous community.

We understand that you may have questions about funding opportunities and other expectations. As we continue to monitor this quickly moving situation, we are working to provide supports that will assist and help those most vulnerable in our community.

Over the next several days, we will be communicating directly with our key partners including agencies, our family of fundholders and donors, and our corporate partners.

While we adjust our operations, you can reach members of our team directly through email or phone. Visit <https://burlingtonfoundation.org/about/our-team/> for our team's contact info.

Our community has shown time and again its resilience to rise above the challenges before us. We value your commitment to serving our community, and we remain your trusted partner in philanthropy.

Most sincerely,

Colleen Mulholland
