Burlington, ON, July 17, 2020 – Burlington Foundation is pleased to announce the appointment of Kevin Brady, Director, Advica Health and Director Corporate Health, NFP Canada to Burlington Foundation’s Board of Directors.

“We are thrilled that Kevin has joined our Board of Directors,” says Colleen Mulholland, President and CEO, Burlington Foundation. “Through Kevin’s robust entrepreneurial and business experience, along with his track record in strengthening our community’s health and wellness, Kevin brings a dynamic fusion of expertise to our board. This appointment further enriches the long-standing relationship the Foundation has enjoyed with Kevin, from honouring Kevin as our Philanthropist of the Year in 2010 to years of personal and corporate support of the Foundation’s mission.”

In the health and benefits sector for 35 years, Kevin’s leadership position in his field has been forged through holding a senior executive position within one of Canada’s largest insurance companies as well as starting his own employee benefits company which merged with NFP in 2013. Additionally, seeing a need to help companies with health solutions, Kevin founded Advica Health. He is a recognized speaker addressing how companies can improve profits through employee health and wellness.

“Burlington Foundation’s 20-year history of helping to build a thriving community for everyone through immediate and legacy giving makes it a unique and powerful asset to our community,” says Brady. “I’m delighted to deepen my involvement with such a respected organization and I’m proud to join with this incredibly accomplished team of leaders to further grow the Foundation’s impact on our community.”

Kevin’s passion for promoting healthy communities and volunteerism has been recognized on multiple occasions. In addition to being named the Foundation’s Philanthropist of the Year in 2010, Kevin was awarded Citizen of the Year in 2007, and was a recipient of the Queen’s Jubilee Medal for being an outstanding community member.
